In addition to delivering an immersive keynote presentation at your event – add flow, polish and connection with Peter as your event facilitator and master of ceremonies.

He is masterful at reading the audience, quick to think on his feet and responds instantly to the moment as required.

As your official host he will take care of supporting and introducing your speakers and presenters; weave and maintain a positive program flow; host live stage interviews and panel discussions, and keep the audience engaged throughout your whole event.

Additionally, Peter's clients often use him to help plan, design and bring their event program to life.
